Ariadne: Resources for Athenaze
Oral Script for Chapter 21a-b

Goats, water jars, and doors: learning to cooperate
In groups of three, the first person utters a command, the second contradicts the first (negative command: μή + imperative or μή + subjunctive), the third gives an exhortation (hortatory subjunctive). Then everyone acts out the command. Please rotate who gives the initial command.

ἔλαυνε τὸν αἶγα.

δίωκε τὸν αἶγα.

ἕπου τὸν αἶγα.

ἄμελγε τὸν αἶγα.

θύε τὸν αἶγα.

Goats, water jars, and doors: learning to cooperate
In groups of three, the first person utters a command, the second contradicts the first (negative command: μή + imperative or μή + subjunctive), the third gives an exhortation (hortatory subjunctive). Then everyone acts out the command. Please rotate who gives the initial command.

αἶρε τὴν ὑδρίαν.

κατατίθει τὴν ὑδρίαν.

δίδου μοι τὴν ὑδρίαν.

πλήρου τὴν ὑδρίαν.

Goats, water jars, and doors: learning to cooperate
In groups of three, the first person utters a command, the second contradicts the first (negative command: μή + imperative or μή + subjunctive), the third gives an exhortation (hortatory subjunctive). Then everyone acts out the command. Please rotate who gives the initial command.

σπεῦδε πρὸς τὴν θύραν.

κόπτε τὴν θύραν.

ἀνοίγνυ τὴν θύραν.

δέχου τὸν ξένον.

κλεῖσε τὴν θύραν.

στῆθι. (2nd aorist of ἵστημι)

κάθιζε.

κεῖσο. (from κεῖμαι; subjunctive stem = κε-) κάθευδε.

ἐγείρου. (from ἐγείρομαι, middle of ἐγείρω, wake up)